LAST FRIDAY'S THREE EVENTS

From the president

By Pat Carroll, President

I WANT TO THANK ALL THE MEMBERS who participated in the OLLI Annual Meeting at Tallwood on May 2. Bob Bohall, chair of the Nominating Committee, introduced all seven of our candidates for the 2008-2009 Board. Each was allocated a few minutes to give a brief update of their background and thoughts for the new board to help OLLI continue and grow. We had a good crowd and many good questions. Now that the candidate presentations have been completed at both Tallwood and Reston, I hope all of the members will participate in the vote. The ballots have been mailed and the ballot boxes placed. We had over 400 voters last year, and hopefully we will surpass that number this year. Remember, this is the group that you elect to manage our OLLI.

I would like express my gratitude to Debbie Halverson and her many, many volunteers who helped set up and run the excellent picnic we had on Friday. It was chocoholic heaven with all of the great chocolate desserts. Also, our Executive Director, Thom Clement, brought his very large grill (almost filled up his pickup) and then acted as chef and cooked all of the hamburgers and hot dogs.

Board candidates answer questions at Annual Membership Meeting; members enjoy picnic goodies and music by the Recorder Ensemble; members look over silent auction items. Photos by Gordon Canyock.

Debbie and her volunteers are to be given a huge round of applause for the wonderful silent auction set up in TA-3. The last tally I received was over $3,000 and still counting. I understand there will be another silent auction in Reston on May 21. Plan to attend.

We are quickly coming to the end of another term of superb classes at OLLI and preparing to receive catalogs for the summer. It is time to take a short breather and then refocus on the next term. (P.S. The Loudoun campus is only half through its term, so there is time to visit classes in Sterling. Contact Madeline Lynn or Ray Beery in Loudoun to see what is special.)

One last thought. When you see a member with a red dot (new member), take the time to say hello and ask if you can help in any way. We have all been new at one time and would like some one to just smile and speak to us.

SILENT AUCTION TAKES IN 3K A successful event

By Debbie Halverson, Membership Committee Chair

A HEARTY CONGRATULATIONS IS DUE TO US ALL as we report over $3,000 as the total sales take on the Silent Auction. We still have loose ends to pick up but we can certainly feel good about the effort that so many put into making this event a successful one.

The day itself went so well ... beautiful weather, a crowded TA-1 for the Annual Meeting where we heard our great slate of board candidates tell us their thoughts about serving, and then the delightful lunch on the lawn with folks milling around, picking up their burgers or a sausage in bun while visiting in the true friendly OLLI way.

Those who participated in the bidding seemed pleased with the variety of items and services available; crowds gathered around the table where various dinner parties and other services that involve socializing over food were listed. Little was left over, but whatever was, with a few exceptions, will be included in the Silent Auction on May 21, 4:00 to 7:00 at the Roe home in Reston when the Reston folks get a turn to raise money for Friends of OLLI. All OLLI members are invited to attend that event. See the [Eye on Reston article below for details. --Ed.]

We learned a lot from the process of working this first OLLI Silent Auction and particularly during the end game when the cashing out process required much patience on the bidders' part. We do appreciate that.

I have so many people to thank for all that they did to make this event such a success, and I can't possibly do it all here. But the one person who must be named is the indomitable Doris Bloch who is still chasing details. Except for her, we might not have been able to pull it off.

Now let's enjoy the fruits of our winnings.

LET'S GO FOR 1,000!

From the executive director

By Thom Clement, Executive Director

DURING OUR ANNUAL MEETING and "Meet the Candidates" on May 2, there was much discussion of the challenges facing OLLI at Mason, including the consequences of membership growth. Most of us like to see new members because they bring new talents, fresh perspectives, and a high level of energy. We know that we may qualify for an additional endowment from the Osher Foundation if we reach a total of 1,000 members. Several OLLI members have asked the question, "How are we going to handle 1,000 members when we are already having problems with lack of space for classes and for parking?"

My response to the question is that I would welcome the challenge of finding adequate space for 1,000 members, particularly if that level of membership gains us significant financial resources. To handle a larger membership, we would need to be creative in dealing with the variables of time, space, and money. For example, we may want to look at having courses and activities at different times than our current schedule allows. We also might consider using other spaces for activities, as we currently do when we conduct our "megacourses" at the local church and in the Lake Anne church in Reston. Additional time and space would probably require money to pay for rental and staff support.

As one of the board candidates mentioned in the meeting, we already have approximately 850 members when you include the OLLI in Loudoun, so we're only talking about 150 more to reach 1,000. With all of the creative problem-solving ability that we already have, and adding the energy and ideas of 150 new members, we can face any challenges that are put before us. I say, "Let's go for 1,000!"

BOARD HIGHLIGHTS

About the Apr 18 Board meeting

By Susanne Zumbro, Secretary

THE OLLI BOARD OF DIRECTORS met at Tallwood on Fri, Apr 18, at 10:00. President Pat Carroll announced that Mason has been holding town meetings to discuss the renewal of the contract of University Provost Peter Stearns. Thom Clement attended a meeting in order to speak on behalf of OLLI in praise of Dr. Stearns and his contributions to OLLI.

Pat reported that he and Thom had attended the National Osher Conference in Phoenix. There were 119 OLLIs present at the meeting, each one different from the others. While many are just a department within the university, we are unique in being separate from our university. In most cases, the university pays the director and staff members. The breadth of our programs was superior to many others, and our Web site is turned to by many newer OLLIs as a model. At the meeting, the buzz word among OLLIs seemed to be: "1,000 members = one million." This refers to the fact that Osher will make an additional grant of one million dollars to OLLIs reaching one thousand members.

Executive Director Thom Clement delivered the financial report, announcing that we are doing well financially. Although we expected to be under-funded at this point by $12,860, we actually have $1,958 more income than expenses for the year to date. As of 4/17/08 we have 763 members. In Loudoun, 95 people have registered for classes, including 17 full OLLI members (part of the 763-member total). We now have new OLLI business cards, and members were urged to pass them out.

Treasurer Gordon Canyock reported that the first quarter results are encouraging. We came in under budget in all expense categories and above budget in all income categories except dividends and interest, which was only about $200 below expectations. Besides, we have earned $825 on the so-called Osher Accommodation Fund, which is not included in our budget but which is available to us if we need it.

The Board passed a resolution providing a sponsorship-level donation of $1,000 to Fall for the Book in recognition of the past and current value of Fall for the Book programming to OLLI members.

The plans for the proposal for improving the social room annex are posted on the wall in the annex. The total amount requested to fund the entire project would be $5,607. The proposal to fund the project was tabled until the June Board meeting.

The next meeting of the OLLI Board of Directors will be held at 10:00 at Tallwood on Fri, Jun 13. All OLLI members are invited to attend. At that time the newly elected Board members will officially join the Board, and new officers will be elected.

BIKE TO MASON FUN!

Bike to Mason Day (Tue, Apr 22, also Earth Day)

By Barbara Kyriakakis, OLLI E-News Staff Writer

"LET'S GO!" I SHOUTED TO MY BIKING BUDDY, SUZI. A long-time friend, neighbor and an OLLI member, she agreed to ride with me in the Bike to Mason event.

Hopping down her front steps, Suzi is her usual spry, energetic self and ready right on time to pedal the metal. We began our ride in misty mid-morning coolness. As we crossed Olley Lane, it began to sprinkle. Our helmets protected our hair ... oops, I mean our heads ... a must in our world of biking.

As we pedaled through neighborhood parklands and up side streets, we admired the multicolored flora. We arrived at Mason with the sun just peeking out ... about a five-mile ride. Although we missed the breakfast treats, and the first speaker, we had a full day ahead of us.

Barbara Kyriakakis and Suzi Brunelle

We stopped at the Vienna Bike booth where we received free bike tune-ups. We strolled over to the Virginia Department of Transportation tent and obtained free flashlights, tape measures, and reflectors for our shoes. A raffle ticket I bought at the American Diabetes Association booth produced a $5.00 Starbucks gift certificate.

At the Fairfax County Department of Transportation tent, we collected small, but powerful, front bike lights, reflective wristbands, and Fairfax trail maps. We spun a wheel at this booth and won double-headed mini-screwdrivers. Each stand we visited showered us with freebies and information.

After we ate lunch in the Johnson Center, we biked around campus noting the many new buildings under construction, the colorful waning tulips and the beautiful, budding azaleas.

We chatted with students, basked in the sun, and refreshed ourselves at a bottled water station. Later we chowed down on complimentary roast beef sandwiches, luscious strawberries and pineapple, chunks of cheese, and thick, melt-in-your-mouth chocolate chip cookies.

Eventually, we retraced our route home under cerulean skies and 70-degree weather. Suzi and I thoroughly enjoyed the gorgeous spring day, the exercise, and the fun activities at Mason.

THANKS TO THE 2007 FRIENDS OF OLLI

Your donations truly helped

By John Woods, Development Committee Chair

DURING 2007, 203 people—including husbands and wives making a joint donation—contributed to the Friends of OLLI. Twenty-six percent of the OLLI membership and 84 percent of the Board contributed a total of $18,536. We are very grateful to everyone who generously donated to this fund. You can click here to see the list of everyone who contributed except those who asked that their names not be published. We will shortly be putting these names on a poster for display in the social room.

Support for Friends of OLLI in 2007 has meant a great deal to our ability to better serve members. Dues revenue covers operating costs, but donations to the Friends of OLLI cover certain capital costs to improve our facilities and make program enhancements that would not otherwise be possible. During 2007, Friends of OLLI funds totaling $29,625 (yes, more than the amount donated) were used for the following:

- Defibrillators (two): $ 5,000
- Reupholstering chairs: $ 5,416
- Registration system: $ 8,500
- Classroom headset microphones: $ 1,709
- Scholarships to George Mason students: $ 8,000
- Sponsorship of Fall for the Book: $ 1,000

We would need to ask for even more donations were it not for the generosity of George Mason University which contributed in 2007 approximately $77,500 in-kind for maintenance and upkeep of our Tallwood facilities, with no charge for rent.

Download 1024 x 768 pixels (553 KB)

Download 1280 x 960 pixels (644 KB)

STEP-BY-STEP DOWNLOADING INSTRUCTIONS

1. Determine which size is appropriate for your monitor. In Windows, on the desktop click the right-hand button of your mouse and select Properties on the window that pops up. Click the Settings tab to see your current screen area (e.g., 800 x 600 pixels).
2. In the above table, click the size that matches your screen size.
3. After the photo appears in your browser, click the right-hand button on your mouse. (If the entire image is shown, it has been reduced in size for easy viewing so first click the button that says "Click to Expand to Regular Size.")

4. On the menu that pops up, select "Save/Set as Wallpaper" or "Save/Set as [Desktop] Background."

To use a photo as a screen saver (tip: screen savers are not necessary for LCD monitors because they are not subject to "burn in"), click the size that matches your screen size, click the right-hand button on your mouse and select "Save Image" to save the photo in a designated location on your computer. Follow your operating system's instructions for using that image as a screen saver.

TRIBUTES TO MOTHERS

Three OLLI members write

THREE OLLI MEMBERS SHARE WITH US tributes to their mothers as we near Mother's Day on Sun, May 11.

- From Beverley Persell: Being an only child made me very close to my mother because she would always play games with me and take me on outings as a child. It seems the older I get, the more like her I become. She played the piano, and I play the piano. She taught French, and I teach French. She had a love of theater and movies, and so do I. Her favorite flower was the violet. My mother died in 1991 at the age of 81 after a long battle with Parkinson's disease. I miss her so much. When I hear a certain song or smell a particular perfume, I think of her. The strangest thing happens on my birthday every year in April. Wild violets sprout up all over my yard. It makes me think that she is remembering me on my birthday.

- From Patti Schacht:

THOUGHTS ON MOTHER'S DAY

For all the times you got up in the night to soothe my cries and keep me dry,
 For making our house a home with your master's touch of warmth and good taste;
 For keeping a song in your heart and on your lips to chase away the gloomy days of life;
 For turning your kitchen over to me to create and explore and concoct;
 For allowing me to make mistakes;
 For giving me the world's sweetest brother who was to survive sibling rivalry and become my best friend;
 For sending me to Sunday School where I learned the Master's Plan for living a meaningful life;

 For all the milk and cookies after school;
 For teaching me to do cartwheels;
 For all the buttons sewn back on;
 For all the tears you dried;
 For getting down to my level and joining me and my playmates in our childish revelry;
 For making learning fun and encouraging me when I felt defeated;
 For helping me survive algebra;
 For showing me how to be a good citizen by the way you lived your life;
 For teaching me how to take pride in my appearance without falling prey to vanity;
 For being persistent in finishing the task before you---even when it wasn't fun;
 For opening up to me forever the beauty of flowers;
 For showing charity to those less fortunate;
 For your giving heart and your generous spirit;
 For your little magic touches at our plates on holidays;
 For your love of life and your courage in the face of difficulties;
 For all these and much, much more,
 Thanks, Sweet Mama

• From Ellen Cowperthwaite: My mother, Katharine Terry Dooley, was – among other things – a pioneer in the civil rights movement, a peace activist, an advocate for California farm workers, a long-time member of the inter-faith council in our hometown and a free-lance writer. In spite of these many commitments, she always made it clear that we – my father, brothers, sisters and I – were her top priority, and she was always there for us. When I was raising my children, while trying to maintain some identity of my own, my mother's ability to balance the many elements of her life was a continuing inspiration to me.

• A published tribute. Also, Leo Brennan provided a link to a touching tribute by Don Boudreaux to his late mother; Don is chair of Mason's Department of Economics and has long been a supporter of OLLI and presenter in our classrooms. You can read Don's tribute in the Pittsburgh Tribune-Review.

DEPARTING LONGTIME DIRECTORS

From the editor

By Rod Zumbro, OLLI E-News Editor

 Abbie Edwards, Carol Henderson, Susanne Zumbro*

MANY OF YOU MAY NOT BE AWARE how Board terms work. According to our bylaws, directors are elected for a three-year term. A director can choose to run for re-election and, if re-elected, the director may serve for one additional three-year term. No individual can serve more than two consecutive terms, and then there must be a two-year absence from the board before the individual may serve again as a director.

Three of our directors are now completing their second Board terms after having served on your behalf for SIX consecutive years. I know you will agree with me that six years is a very long time. Our board is a "working board," and each of the departing longtime directors has served OLLI in leadership positions including--

- Abbie Edwards: Chair of Reston Support Committee (five years); Co-Chair of Philosophy, Ethics and Religion Resource Group.
- Carol Henderson: Secretary (two years); Chair of Publications Committee; Chair of Reston Support Committee; Chair of Literature and Language Resource Group; Chair of Ad Hoc Committee on Committee Structure; Chair of Ad Hoc Search Committee for Executive Director.
- Susanne Zumbro: Secretary; Vice President; Chair of Membership Committee; Chair of Administration Committee.

If you see these ladies on campus, be sure to thank them for their long, dedicated service to OLLI. They are no doubt ready for a well-deserved break from all that work!

WANTED: KOREAN WAR VETERANS

THE HISTORY AND CURRENT EVENTS RESOURCE GROUP is planning a fall course on the Korean War. We'd like to have OLLI participants of the Korean War share any of their experiences with us in one of our classes. Please contact Phil True for more information.

OLLI BOOK CLUB

Meets Wed to discuss The Zookeeper's Wife

THE OLLI BOOK CLUB WILL MEET at Tallwood on Wed, May 14, at 1:30. The book for discussion is The Zookeeper's Wife by Diane Ackerman. It is a non-fictional narrative about one of the most successful hideouts of World War II. All OLLI members are welcome.

DEPARTMENTS

EYE ON RESTON

Silent auction and picnic

By Sharon Gilman, OLLI E-News Staff Writer

AS USUAL IN THE SUMMER, OLLI AT TALLWOOD will not be conducting afternoon classes, so we encourage members who don't normally attend classes in Reston to join us for an afternoon class. Having lunch at Lake Anne (photo at left by Stan Schretter) followed by an interesting OLLI class is not a bad way of spending a Tuesday or Thursday afternoon.

Silent Auction and Picnic: The annual, never-held-before Reston Silent Auction and Picnic will be held on Wed, May 21, between 4:00 and 7:00 at the home of Alice and Al Roe in Vienna. They live just outside of Reston off Hunter Mill Road in a development called Wayside. Ham and turkey will be provided, with those attending bringing sides and desserts. Please register with Alice Roe via phone or email or use one of the sign-up sheets available in the classrooms.

The particulars for the Silent Auction are as follows: If you want to participate by donating an item, you need to fill out a form located on a table in each of the Lake Anne classrooms. A form can also be sent to you by email by contacting Debbie Halverson. Joan Smith will be collecting the completed forms by email or postal mail.

How many times have you looked at an item in your home and said, "I need to get rid of that?" Well, here is the opportunity to do it! The best sellers at Tallwood last Friday were catered dinners for four, a tapas party, and three-table bridge parties. Think about what you can donate.

This event is open to the full OLLI membership, and friends are welcome.

BEBE FAAS RICE IS THE MODERATOR of OLLI Loudoun's Visiting Authors course #491 this spring. This course highlights a different writer each week. Each author gives a talk about his or her work and reads an excerpt if the author so chooses. It is always fascinating to learn how a gifted writer creates such excellence. Time is allowed for questions from the audience about the writing process.

To date, we have heard from--

- Mark Leepson, journalist, historian and author of Desperate Engagement,

- Susan Richards Shreve, a teacher in the creative writing program at George Mason University, whose latest novel is A Student of Living Things;
- Lt. Gen. Bernard Trainor, U. S. Marine Corps (Ret.), military correspondent for the New York Times, a military analyst for NBC and co-author of Cobra Two: The Inside Story of the Invasion and Occupation of Iraq; and
- Barbara Bradlyn Morris, freelance author who wrote The Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts and The Fattest Baby in the Bronx.

Each author has provided a generous window into his or her world, and we're enjoying this course immensely. There are three weeks left in this course – join us!
